BUILDING A JUST COMMUNITY WITH A CULTURE OF HEALTH AND EQUITY

April 28, 2018 from 8:00 AM – 4:30 PM

Jacobs School of Medicine and Biomedical Sciences
955 Main St, Buffalo, NY 14203

with speakers
Dr. Consuelo Wilkins & Dr. Stephen Thomas

Learn about the causes of the health crisis among African Americans in Buffalo

Learn how other communities are solving the problem

Meet others like yourself who want to create a healthier Buffalo

The African American Health Disparities Task Force is a grassroots initiative that has brought together community and academic individuals who want to address and improve the health disparities in the African American population in Buffalo.

Through guided breakout sessions informed by the social determinants of health, we will explore the underlying root causes of health disparities by examining, discussing, and initiating action related to housing, health and healthcare, education and training, personal security and employment, jobs and financial hardship.

Register at tinyurl.com/IgniteHope2018

Contact Latoyia Malcom
IgniteHope2018@gmail.com
for more information.